

Warriors Hit By Flu For Track Meet

Wakefield High School's hastily formed track team, to be entered in the Metropolitan Games on Saturday, already is faced with the juggling problem as a result of a flu epidemic that has taken hold of the athletic department.

Coach Buddy Stein learned yesterday that two of his ace runners, George Cochran and Chalkley, are not going to make the week-end affair because of the virus.

Richard Reynolds will spot George Cochran in the 1000 yard run while Wayne Wilson is taking over the 600 yard skip for Chalkey.

Reynolds is a sophomore with no track experience, but the lad won his letter in cross-country and has continued his training throughout the winter months, so he should be physically fit for the contest if he can pace himself for the 1000 yard race.

Wilson is a junior who also has no track experience but Wayne kept working out since lettering in cross country last fall and should be in good shape if he doesn't find the 600 yard gallon too unfamiliar.
